Retained development-session screenshots

About the conversation history

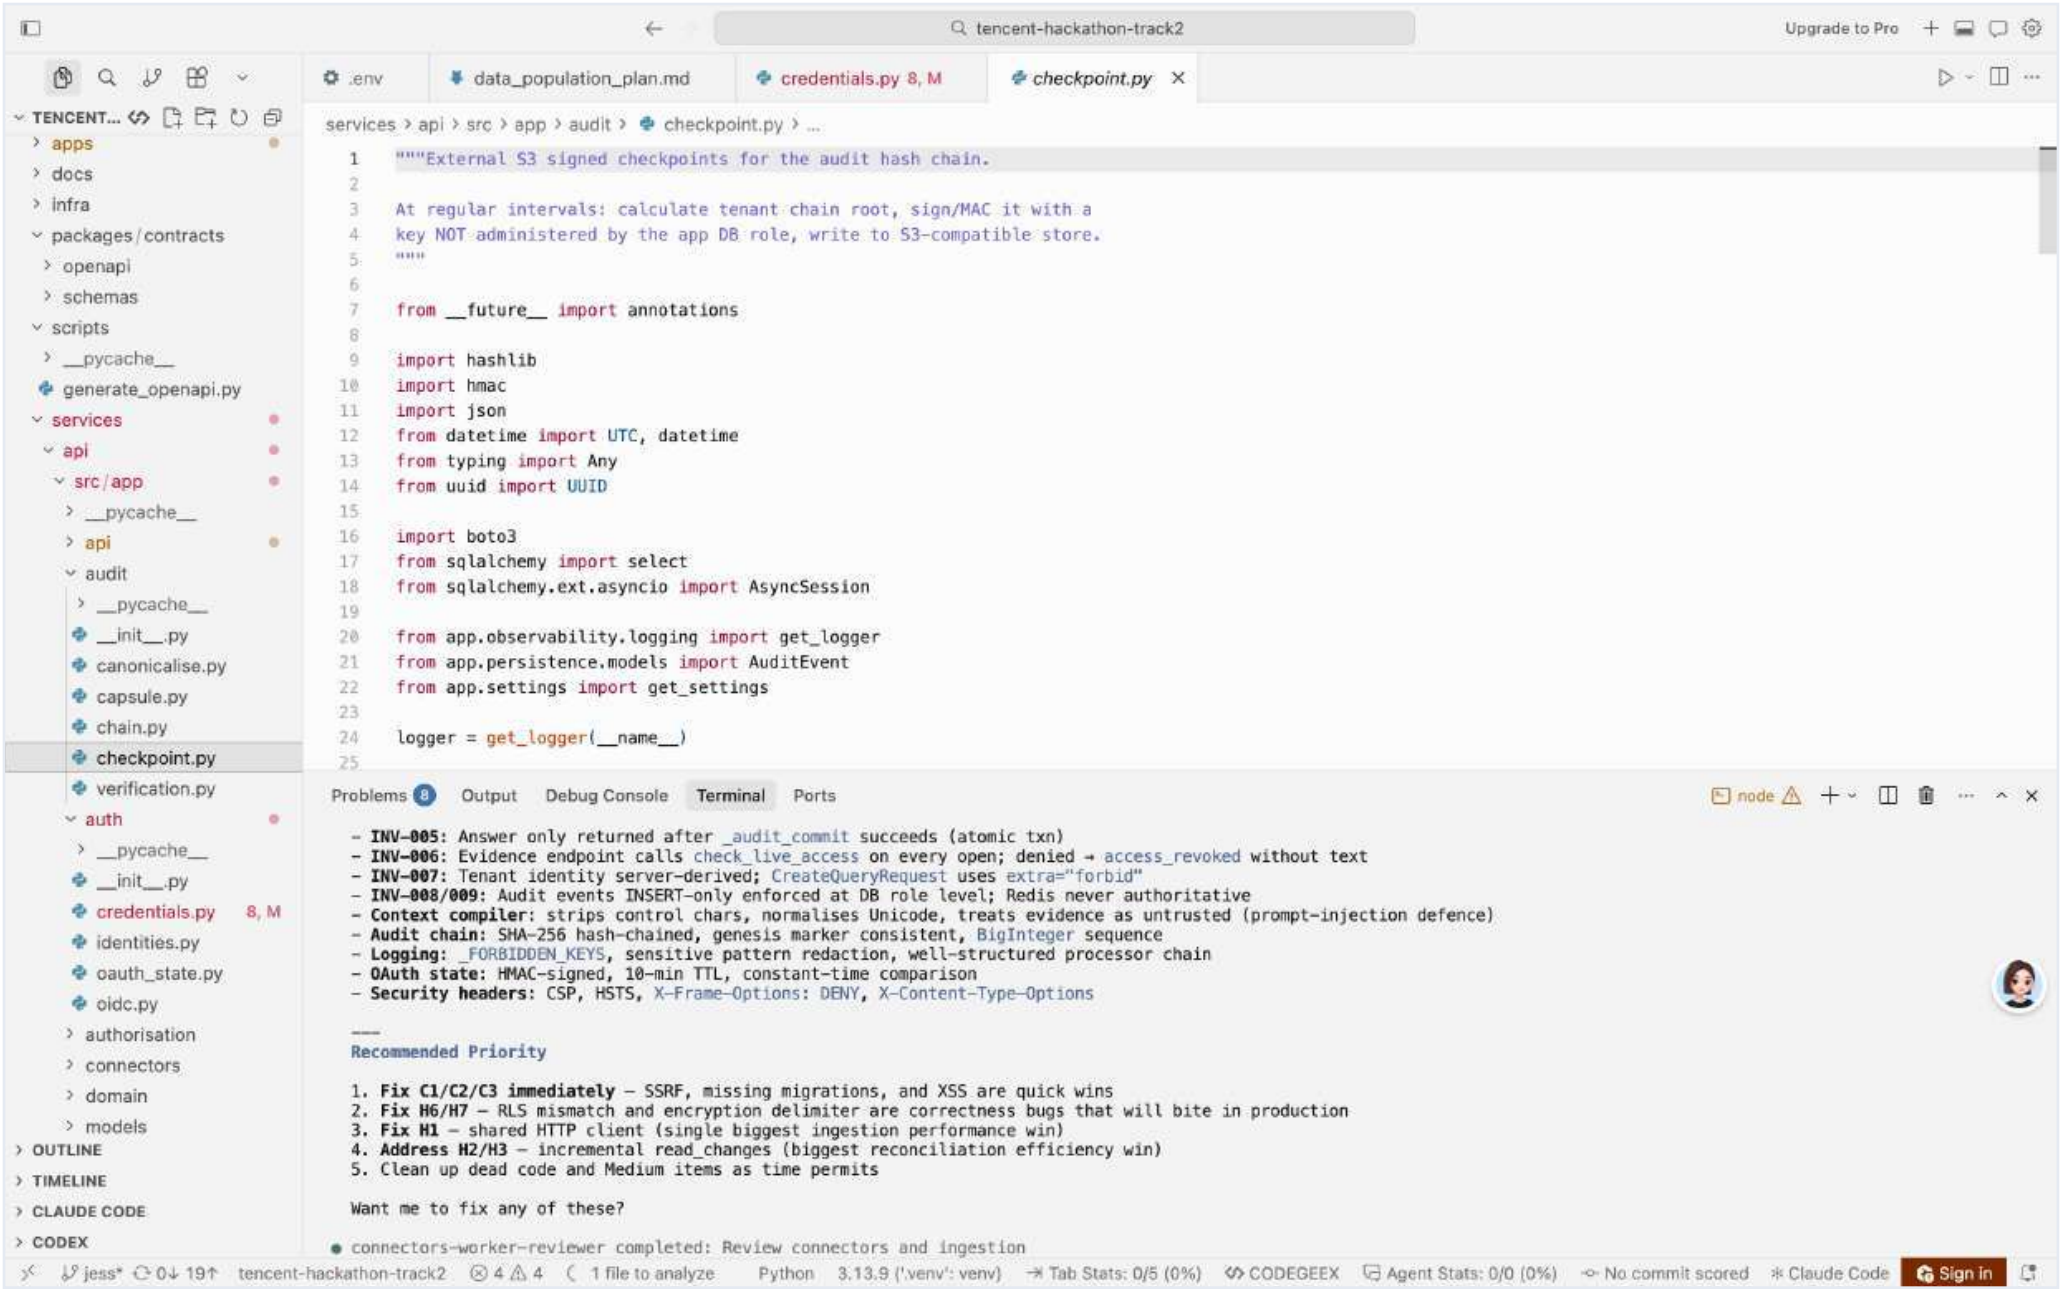

Earlier CodeBuddy conversation history was cleared during development and is no longer available for a complete export. The seven retained screenshots on the following pages show surviving development-session activity and related edits. They are selected excerpts, not a complete transcript.

Work represented in the retained screenshots

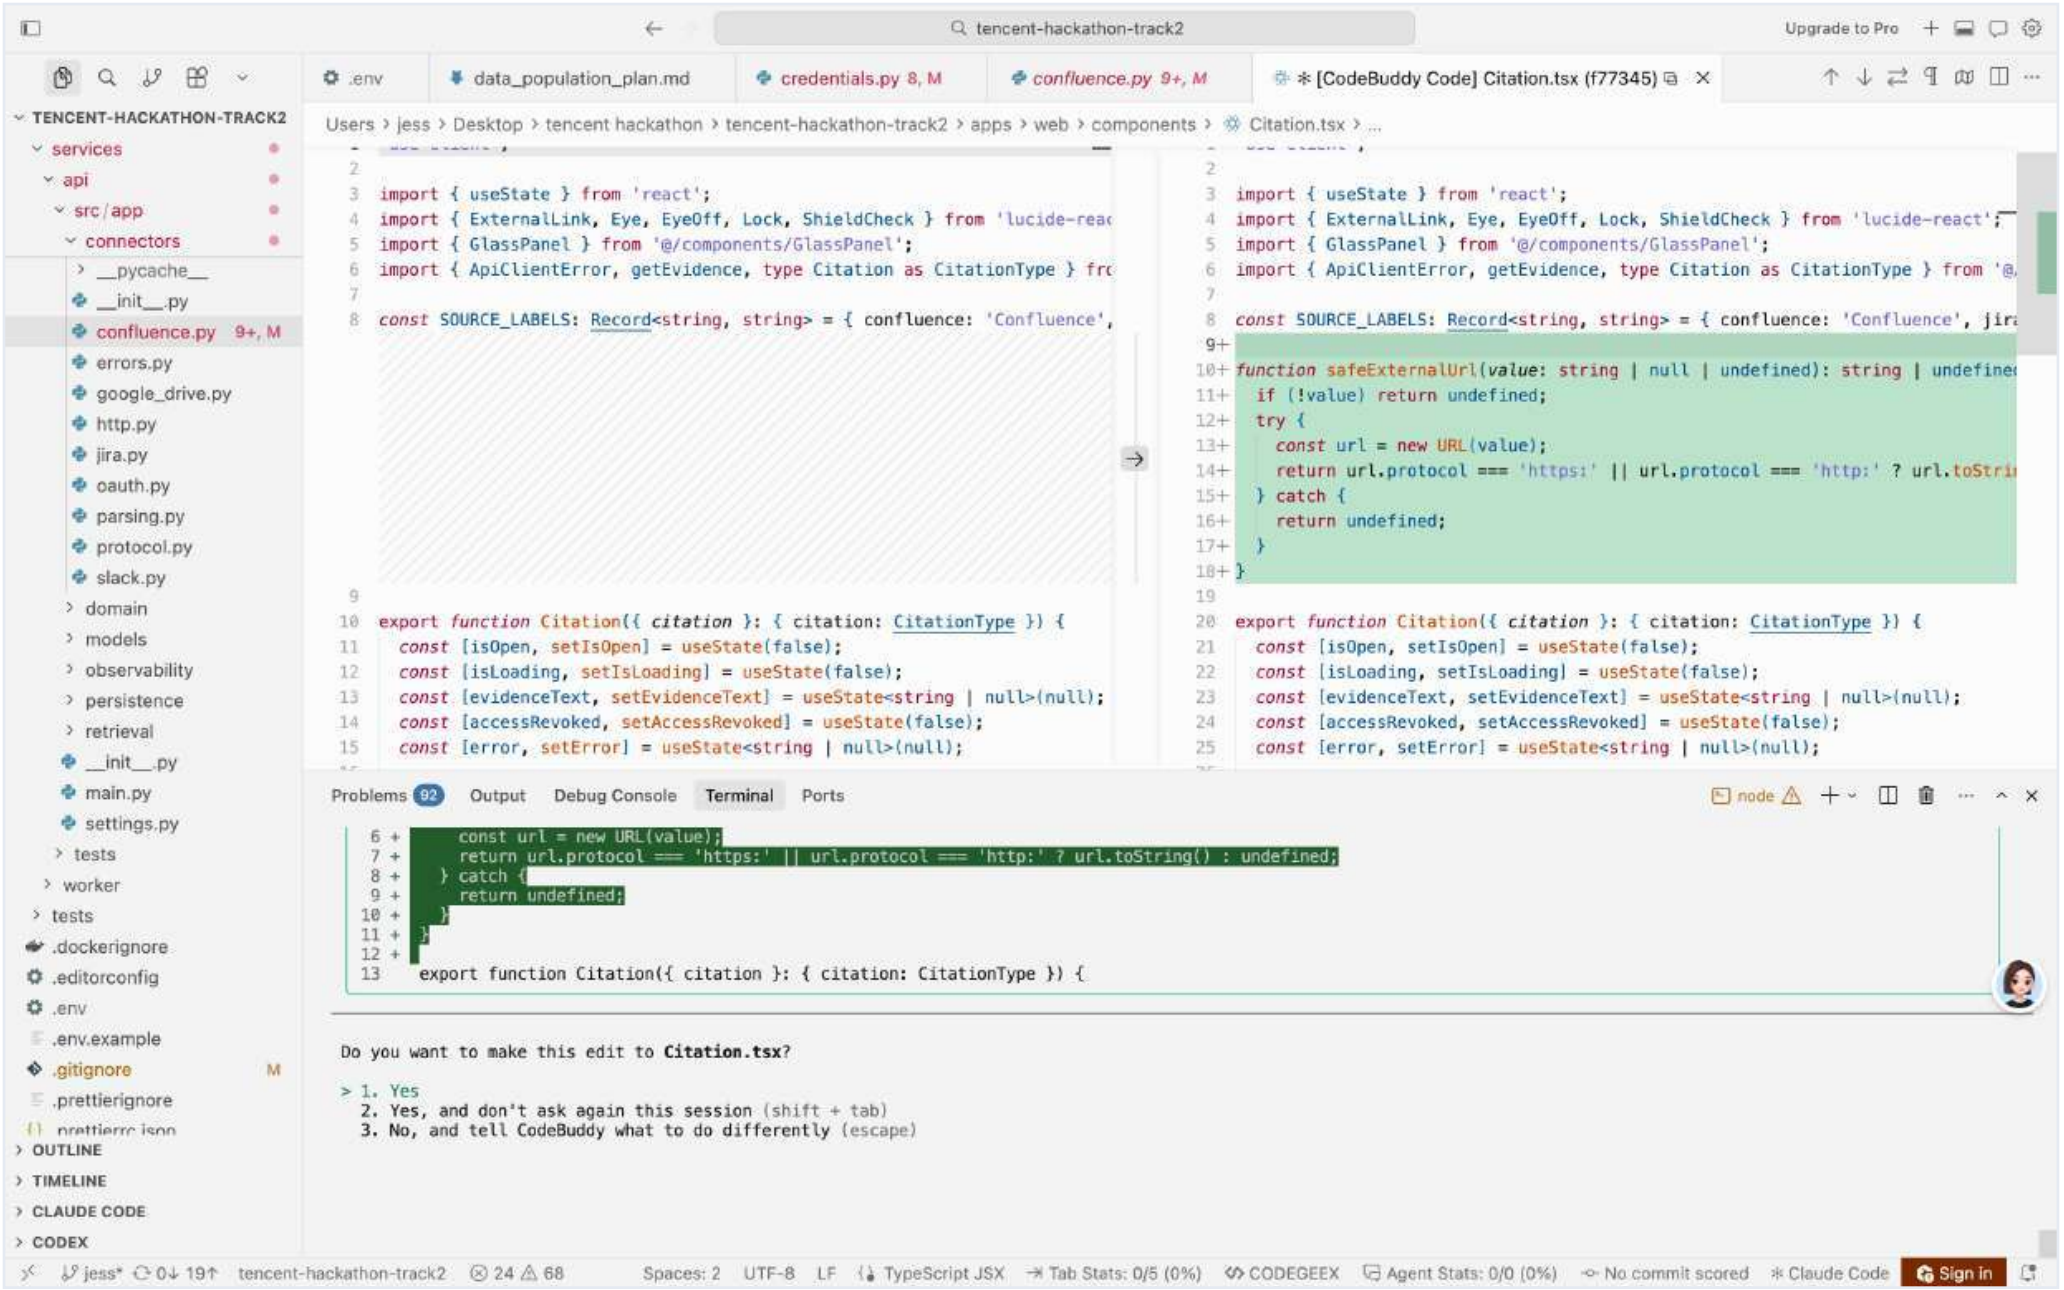

- Audit-chain checkpoints and access controls
- Citation-link URL validation
- Connector parsing and pagination
- Credential payload handling
- Initial implementation planning
- Alembic migration debugging

Seven screenshots follow. Additional images are downsized and compressed to keep the file compact.
